Astronomy Day in Schools (ADiS)

The Astronomy Days in Schools project, which began as one of the IAU 100 Global Projects, has been organized by the sub-WG of Astronomy Days in Schools under the WG of Astronomy Education Research & Methods.

The project website (https://adis.narit.or.th/) is hosted by the National Astronomical Research Institute of Thailand (NARIT) starting in 2021.

The project hosts a quarterly online program on the occasion of the equinox and solstice, which is a key feature of the project. Students and teachers from different countries present the astronomical, cultural, and social aspects in the scenes of their daily life and at their schools at that time.

Astronomy Education Journal (AEJ)

About the Journal
AEJ aims to meet the needs of the astronomy education community by providing a location for all manner of practical, newsworthy and scholarly publications involving developments in the field. In a sense, the journal tries to capture the original spirit whilst taking on board the important lessons from the, now out-of-print, Astronomy Education Review. By focusing on building community collaboration, disseminating important news and opinions, while also maintaining a section on more formal, technical, Astronomy Education Research (AER).

Astronomy Education 2023 (AstroEdu2023) (to be held in 2023)

The inaugural AstroEdu Conference in 2019 showed that there is a need for a conference dedicated to bringing together researchers and practitioners from the astronomy, astronomy education, general education and other communities. The second AstroEdu Conference will adhere to this mission, and will provide an overview of what has happened in the five years and look ahead into the future.

2023 Conference Themes

- Theory and Methodology: Astronomy Education Research
  Highlighting the developments and innovations in research methodologies and theoretical perspectives.

- Tangible Outcomes: Astronomy Education Practice
  Highlighting the innovations in bringing astronomy into the classroom and beyond.

- The Future of Astronomy Education
  Learning from the past, building the present, and looking forward to the future
